LET ME KNOW YOUR PLANS FOR THE SAFARI - DO NOT WANT DOUBLE OCCUPANCY, PREFERRED ROOMMATE IF ANY, DIFFERENT FLIGHT ARRANGEMENTS TO/FROM AFRICA. LET ME KNOW THAT YOU HAVE MADE YOUR DEPOSIT TO SAFARI COMPANY.

To apply for Safari in northern Botswana (8 days/7 nights):

We will pay individually and directly to Conservation Safari Co with our deposits and balance for the Botswana Safari.

Make your deposit to Conservation Safari Co for 1/4 of the safari cost plus the two airfares (from CapeTown to Maun and from Victoria to Johannesburg). These deposits are crucial for us hold the camp space in the two camps - each with space for 16 that are being held for us - but they won't hold them forever.

This combined amount (safari and plane tickets) comes to $1700 per person due ASAP to hold those spaces and buy plane tickets. Our Safari Co will send you an invoice and this amount can be paid by credit card on their secure site or by bank transfer if you prefer. I need to send our rep Garrick Barnard a list of people going on the safari, with email address and passport numbers so he can make your plane reservations and send you your invoice. (I am attaching Garrick's letter that I received regarding safari payments.)

This Journey is being promoted throughout our SW region right now and will appear in the FFI Catalog sent worldwide at the end of July. So I expect we will have more people wanting to join us and will have a full trip of 16. But holding our spaces in the Botswana camps is my biggest concern right now. We don't want to lose these spaces.

Yes - traveling to Africa is a lot of money. If you check commercial tours for the same things we are doing, you will be looking at a cost about double what this trip costs. If you ever plan to go to south Africa, you will probably never find as good a deal as this one. We will also have the great experience of meeting new friends in the CapeTown area (some of you met Hilda and Ian Sedras who visited here last summer) and enjoying beautiful South Africa.

All the flyers and info are available on our website www.friendshipforcedallas.org - Journeys. Or I am glad to send you another one at your request.
